

April 2016

Your NDESC membership ensures you terrific discounts through the Cooperative Purchasing Connection (CPC).

Educators know the extensive products offered by our vendor MackinVIA including: eBooks, online databases, interactive books and audio books.

Learn about the great NDESC discounts on eBooks by mentioning AEPAND when you call: Brian Cretzmeyer at 952-500-0811

TeachingBooks.net takes your students beyond the book. This database of literary resources enrich K-12 reading. Click here for your 30 day free trial.

Learn about aggressive NDESC discounts by contacting:

Ray Roushar at 800-596-0710

The Library Corporation \(TLC\)

Teacher-librarians don't need to be techies to run their library. They can use TLC's Library Solution for Schools. This system is installed on your district's servers or implemented online.

Learn how you can save a substantial amount through NDESC by calling:

John Burns at 800-325-7759

Studying frogs can be fun when they jump off the screen – figuratively of course. Cyber Science 3D is an award-winning software for students studying the STEM principles.

Learn more about a free 30-day trial by calling:

Sean Flynn at 319-354-2555

Or order directly through Express, the online marketplace.

Did you know you can view vendors' catalogs one at a time?

After you login to Express, 1) you can click the magnifying glass underneath a vendor. 2) Then click search, without typing anything into the search bar.

3) The results list will appear with the majority of the vendor's catalog. Note that some vendors have large catalogs and Express will limit the amount of items to 1,000. This tip is perfect if you don't know what you are looking for and just want to browse through the available items. To register for Express online marketplace, go to www.cpcexpress.org

You are receiving this email because you're a member of the North Dakota Educators Service Cooperative.

866-337-2005

info@purchasingconnection.org